How Media Supply can help...,

Distributing discs of your service to your congregation immediately afterwards doesn't have to be an expensive or laborious task. You can be very successful with minimal equipment and proper preparation.

Follow these simple steps:

1. Label Your CDs or DVDs
   Media Supply recommends printing directly to your discs to add another protective layer to the recording layer and to prevent the peeling that occurs with paper labels when the discs are exposed to the heat of the players. Pre-printing your discs allows you to copy them quickly, right after the completion of your live event.
2. Record Your Service
   You'll need a CD or DVD recording device to record your live service to a Master Disc. These recorders will create a high quality master from your churches' sermons and music.
3. Burn Your CDs or DVDs
   The quickest and most economical way to burn lots of CDs or DVDs is with a Disc Duplicating Tower. Towers can burn from one to 20 or more discs in a matter of minutes. The size you buy depends upon your particular situation and the quantity you will need.
4. Package Your CDs or DVDs
   From Jewel Cases and DVD boxes to C-Shells and Paper Sleeves, Media Supply offers many types of DVD and CD packaging products to protect your discs and provide a professional appearance.

Follow this simple procedure and you'll be ready with your finished CDs or DVDs as your congregants are walking out the door! If you have questions, please call 1-800-944-4237. We'll gladly help you get started!

Recorders, Printers and Towers for Church & Ministry

Is your Church or Ministry recording video or audio? Do you wish to take your recording from tape to CD? Are you looking for a way to deliver live-event recordings to your congregants right after your service? If so, let Media Supply help you. We have worked with many religious organizations, from community chapels to national based programs, helping find the right tools to deliver their message. We have recorders, printers, and a full line of manual and automated copiers.

3 Simple Steps to making your own discs:

Record	Live Event Recorders: The first step in taking your recording from a live source or tape to a CD is making your master. Easily create your CD master with these recorders, from a live source or from a blank tape. These recorders will create a high quality master from your churches' sermons and music.
Print	Printing to your blank discs - By pre-printing your discs you can be ready to copy them quickly, right after the completion of your live event. We have automated and manual feed printers, with plenty of options to fit your budget. Media Supply has CD printing solutions that will fit any budget, and meet any quality requirement. Media Supply also can preprint your discs so you can add date or version info later using a thermal printer.
Burn	Copy your CDs onsite, fast, with a high-speed CD tower.Media Supply recommends burning your copies on a cd tower if you plan on distributing your disc right after your sermon. It's the fastest way to make lots of copies in a hurry. We have many tower options, including rackmount multi-disc recorders.
